FOUR SAVED BY LIFE GUARDS

Fishing Boat on Way to Isles of Shoals Becomes Disabled.

Newburyport, Feb. 23.—Two life saving crews from the Plum Island and the Salisbury Beach stations, saved the 30 foot fishing launch Majestic with her crew of four men today after a hard battle against rough seas. The Majestic left Newburyport late yesterday for the Isles of Shoals and at the mouth of the Merrimack river the engine became disabled.

Throwing out an anchor, the men set signals of distress, which were answered by the crews of the two life saving stations in the vicinity. With considerable difficulty owing to the rough sea, both lifeboats got tow lines out to the launch. It was too rough over the bar to tow the boat back into the harbor and the life savers had a hard row along the coast to Hampton river, where the Majestic was anchored in a safe position. Her engine was repaired and she was expected to resume her trip to the fishing grounds tomorrow.

THE WEATHER

BAD FOR YEGGS. Mitchell's Eye on Crooks— Would Give Them Long Sentences.

If Representative Horace Mitchell of Kittery has his way the legislature of Maine passes the bill which he has introduced yegg men will give the Pine Tree State wide berth. Mr. Mitchell says there has been enough of safe blowing in the state and it is time to call a halt on the cracksmen, who raid the postoffices, especially in the country districts. Under the terms of this measure, any person who with the attempt to commit burglary, breaks into and enters in the night time any building in which there is a human being and commits burglary by the use of nitro-glycerine, dynamite, gunpowder or any other explosive, shall be deemed guilty of burglary with explosives, and any person guilty of the offense shall be punished by imprisonment in the State prison at hard labor for a period not less than twenty years and not more than thirty years.

FIRE UNDER BUILDING.

Storehouse in Railroad Yard
Nearly Goes Up in Smoke.

The timely discovery of John Groten, a railroad man late Friday afternoon, prevented the loss of a storehouse by fire, located in the railroad yard, near the shore of the North pond. In a space dug out under the building some boys had built a fire. They got frightened at the blaze and ran away. A lot of oily waste and paper took fire and when the chemical arrived the building was wrapped in smoke, and the blaze had just reached the flooring. A stream from a hand chemical soon checked the blaze. Had the fire not been discovered until a few minutes later, it would have resulted in the loss of fifteen barrels of oil, three barrels of tar, and a lot of tools that are kept there.

SOME LIVELY BOXING BOUTS

Bluejackets of the Washington Entertain Their Friends on Ship.

One of the most enjoyable occasions in the history of the cruiser Washington was that of Washington's Birthday afternoon when the ship's crew were treated to a no line of entertainment. The feature number on the program was the boxing and wrestling, every bout being a fast one. The sparring included four 4 round bouts in which J. Sherlock met C. A. Webb, J. Kline met J. N. Lees, C. L. Foster was the partner of M. Gilbeau, and D. L. M. Rhodes doubled up with P. Gibler. The exhibition was first class and showed that the cruiser has among the crew some good men with the mits. F. A. Richards met J. W. Dressler, and W. A. Albertson went against O. Kelley in the wrestling, and their work on the mat was pleasing to the spectators. George Hunter Shaw, a comedian of much merit favored with monologue and his work was a decided hit. J. P. Drury, A. Z. Nelson, G. A. Short and others of the crew were there with vocal and instrumental selections and their part of the show added no small amount of pleasure to the program of the day. The entertainment closed with moving pictures and dancing. Lieut. W. H. Potter was in charge of the affair and handled the bouts and wrestling with much snap and satisfaction to the crew.

Several men from the station, and many civilians from this city were among the guests of the crew and were well repaid for the time they put in on the deck of the cruiser watching the performers in the star program.

ELIOT.

The two presentations of "Cinderella in Flowerland" at Grange Hall last week were very enjoyable and were well patronized. The costumes were very pretty and the whole thing reflects much credit on its director, b 24 1m Mrs. Charles Foye.

MADERO SLAIN IN MEXICO CITY

Late President and Vice President
Were On Way to Jail When Fired
Upon by Parties in Ambush

Mexico City, Feb. 23.—Francisco I. Madero and Jose Pino Suarez are dead. In a midnight ride under guard from the national palace to the penitentiary they were killed.

The circumstances surrounding the death of the deposed president and vice president of the republic are unknown, except as given in the official accounts, which do not conform in all cases. The only witnesses were those actually concerned in the killing.

The provisional president, Gen. Victoriano Huerta, says that the killing of the two men was incidental to a fight between their guard and a party attempting to liberate them. The minister of foreign relations, Francisco de la Barra, adds that the prisoners attempted to escape. Neither makes a definite statement as to which side fired the fatal shots. It is not impossible that neither knows.

An official investigation has been ordered to determine the responsibility and solemn promises have been made that the guilty will be punished.

Not unnaturally a great part of the public regards the official versions with doubt, having in mind the use for centuries of the notorious "ley fuga," the unwritten law which is invoked when the death of a prisoner is desired. After its application there is written on the records, "Prisoner shot trying to escape."

Senora Madero, the widow of the president, received the first information of his death from the Spanish minister, Senor Cologan y Cologan. She already had heard reports that something unusual and serious had occurred, but friends had endeavored up to that time to prevent her from learning the whole truth.

Madero's father and Rafael Hernandez, former minister of the interior, and other friends, made efforts early in the day to recover the bodies, and it was stated this afternoon that the American minister, Henry Lane Wilson, had interested himself and secured the promise of Minister de la Barra that the bodies would be delivered to their families for burial.

The tragedy occurred shortly after midnight. Madero and Suarez, who had been prisoners in the national palace since their arrest on Tuesday last, were placed in an automobile, which was accompanied by another car, and escorted by 100 rurales under the orders of Commandant Francisco Cardenas and Col. Rafael Pintor.

With instructions not to outdistance the escort the cars moved slowly. No incident occurred until they had reached a point near the penitentiary, where, in an open place, the guards' attention was attracted, according to the official version, to a group of persons following. Shots were fired at the escort out of the darkness. The rurales closed in and ordered the prisoners out of the car. Thirty of the guards surrounded the prisoners, while the remainder disposed themselves to resist an attack. About fifty men, some afoot and some mounted, threw themselves upon the detachment guarding the cars, and the exchange of shots lasted twenty minutes, when the attacking party fled.

The dead bodies of Madero and Pino Suarez were then found.

The body of Madero shows only one wound. A bullet entered the back of the head and emerged at the forehead.

The body of Pino Suarez shows many wounds, entering from in front. After the engagement on the road to the penitentiary Commandant Cardenas reported to the military commander, who conducted him to Gen. Huerta. The President summoned his cabinet and after apprising his ministers of the occurrence issued an official announcement.

Both President and ministers deeply deplored the affair and decided upon a full investigation to fix the responsibility and to punish the guilty. Already formal action has been taken by the authorities, as the members of the escort are under arrest pending the inquiry.

THE BIRDS GOT THE HOOK

Inspector Tabooes Turkeys for Navy Ships.

The swell feed generally served up to the ships crew and the prisoners of the U. S. S. Southerly and Topeka was somewhat shy of the principal dish of nutriment on Washington's Birthday. The toothsome bird meat known as "turkey" was missing from the menu at the Jackies banquet. What happened, was the chef on a strike? Nothing of the kind. The birds were taboed. Two hundred and eighty five pounds of the Western cold storage fowl did not look good to F. J. Sullivan, the government inspector, and he declined to admit them to the culinary department. His heart was headed with sorrow, as he held up the birds but they were not up to the specifications, and that settled it.

MEMORIAL MASS.

For Deceased Members of K. of C. on Saturday.

Following the annual custom established several years ago, a memorial mass for the deceased members of the Knights of Columbus was held at the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Washington's birthday at 8 a.m. It was largely attended by the members of the local council. The celebrant was Rev. Edward J. Walsh, D.D., and the senior choir rendered the music.

DIPLOMATS WILL NOT ATTEND

Invited to Luncheon But Mexican Tragedy Must Be First Cleared.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson telegraphed to the state department to night that Francisco de la Barra, minister for foreign affairs, had invited all foreign diplomats in Mexico to take luncheon with him tomorrow. The ambassador stated that none of the diplomats would attend the luncheon unless the tragic death early today of Former President Madero and Former Vice President Suarez is cleared of mystery.

This decision on the part of the diplomatic corps in the Mexican capital indicates the gravity of the situation which will confront the Huerta government, should it fail to clear the mystery in which the killing of Madero and Suarez still is enveloped.

No official comment was forthcoming here tonight as statements relating to the tragedy made by Senor de la Barra and Provisional President Huerta, but it was taken for granted that if the late leaders were brutally murdered as the result of a plot, the present government would be called upon for an explanation when it seeks political recognition at the hands of the United States.

This it may be brought about that in addition to showing itself equal to the immense problems of reconstruction before it, including the re-establishment of law and order in states so long torn by revolution, Mexico may be able to show that the blood of its late ruler is not upon its hands.

TROOPS BEING GATHERED ON THE MEXICAN BORDER

President Taft Orders Brigade Ready If Mexico Does Not Behave.

Washington, Feb. 23.—About 4000 soldiers were ordered Saturday to Galveston, Tex., the nearest seaport adapted to the embarkation of troops for Mexico.

They are not under orders to proceed to Mexico and it is the expectation and the hope of the administration that it will not be necessary to issue orders for such a movement.

The situation in that country, however, is regarded as sufficient to warrant the concentration of a force strong enough to take possession of a seaport and open the way for an invasion of the country.

It will be for President Woodrow Wilson to decide whether such an expedition shall be dispatched, although, of course, it is assumed that he will first seek the guidance of Congress. Through trusted agents, though not directly, the President-elect is understood to have expressed his interest in the situation and to have put himself in a position to acquire specific knowledge as to all details before he comes to Washington, March 3.

Up to today the war department officials had contented themselves with the issue of preliminary orders to two brigades of troops, the first brigade, first division, in New York state, and the fifth brigade, second division, in the Middle West. In the ordinary course it would require at least eight days and perhaps longer to gather these divisions at one of the Gulf ports, ready for embarkation.

Would Talk Too Long.

It has been decided that this is a greater period of time than can properly be allowed to elapse before dispatching troops to Mexico if a great emergency should arise. Therefore, orders were issued today for the embarkation of the entire fifth brigade, 2d division, for Galveston, the troops being under command of Brig. Gen. Frederick A. Smith and comprising the 4th, 7th, 10th and 28th regiments of infantry; 2d company, 2d battalion of engineers; field hospital No. 3, ambulance corps No. 3 and one signal corps company from Fort Leavenworth.

A subsequent order attached to this brigade three army pack trains each of 50 mules, one from Fort Ogden, Utah, one from Fort Robinson, Neb., and one from the Presidio of San Francisco, also, to supply a sufficient force of cavalry to protect the flanks and rear of the infantry. An order was dispatched to Maj. Gen. Carter at Chicago, in command of the 4th or mounted battery of field artillery, commanded by Capt. Alexander H. Dyer stationed at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming.

Orders were also issued to Gen. Carter to prepare the 1st brigade, 2d division, for transportation to Galveston.

A PORTSMOUTH SINGER TOOK PART

Salem, Feb. 23.—Miss Alice Mae Caswell, a talented soprano soloist of this city, will impersonate the "Goddess of Liberty" and sing the "Star Spangled Banner" at the service to be held in City Hall, Gloucester, Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in commemoration of the heroes who lost their lives in Havana Harbor Feb. 15, 1898, by the sinking of the United States battleship Maine.

The service will be under the auspices of William McKinley Camp, United Spanish War Veterans. Noddy speakers will take part in the service. Miss Caswell was born in Portsmouth, June 26, 1898, and for several years has resided in this city with her mother, Mrs. Mabel E. Caswell, 5 First street. Miss Caswell is a soprano and has sung in church choirs at Ipswich, Lynn and other places.

Tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. she will sing in the First Unitarian church, Danvers, and at the close of the service will journey to Gloucester.

COLORED PEOPLE PROTEST

Oppose Separate Cars and Law Against Race Intermarriage

Denouncing the proposed legislation which provides for the segregation of the races in street cars and forbids intermarriage between the white and colored races, two thousand colored citizens protested against the proposed law as unjust, unfair, discriminatory and un-American, at a mass meeting held yesterday in Metropolitan A. M. E. church, Washington, D. C. Resolutions still further to oppose the enactment of this measure into law were adopted, and a committee of fifteen was named to go before committees of the Senate and House to make a formal protest on behalf of the colored citizens of Washington.

Rev. J. N. Jones, pastor of the church in which the meeting was held; Rev. M. B. Turner, pastor of the Congregabut not to dispatch them. This comprises the 23d, 26th and 27th regiments of infantry, commanded by Brig. Gen. Hamway D. Potter. Meanwhile the 1st brigade, 1st division, comprising the 2d, 5th and 29th regiments of infantry, commanded by Brig. Gen. Martin P. Mens, with headquarters at Albany, N. Y., is also held under preparatory orders.

Transport Provision.

The three army transports Sumner, Kibbick, and McJannet, now on the way from Newport News to Galveston, where they are due about Tuesday next, will be joined at that port by the transport Mendocino as soon as that vessel has discharged at Guantanamo the 1200 marines she embarked at Philadelphia early in the week. This is believed to give ample transportation facilities at least for the 5th brigade.

This represents probably all the preparations that will be undertaken in the closing days of the present administration in the Mexican situation. Considerable expense is involved in today's orders, mainly under the head of transportation charges; but the officials believe that this is justified by existing conditions. It is believed too, that the moral effect likely to be produced upon the extreme elements in Mexico by a demonstration of a disposition of the United States to deal firmly with any scheme into semibarbarism in the treatment of President Madero and his adherents will prove economical in the end, as obviating the necessity for an actual invasion of the country.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Immediately upon the receipt of the war department's orders Gen. Carter, in command of the central department or the army with headquarters in Chicago, issued instructions directing company H of the engineers as part of the expeditionary force to go to Galveston, Tex.

Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 23.—Fifteen hundred men and 120 officers comprising the Seventh United States Infantry, 1st Battalion, 10th Infantry, Co. D Signal Corps, Co. B Engineers Corps and the Field Hospital Corps made immediate preparations for embarkation following receipt Saturday of a despatch from the war department ordering the 5th Brigade, 2d Division, to Galveston. Embarkation will probably be completed by 7 o'clock tonight.

San Francisco, Feb. 23.—Pulman sleeping car conductors of trains running out of San Francisco and Oak Pullman company to take charge of tourists sleeping cars for the movement of troops.

Prof. W. O. H. Hart of Howard End Baptist church; Rev. J. Milton Waldron, formerly of A. H. Grimes, former minister to Santo Domingo; Rev. W. H. Brooks and Dr. John H. Hawkins spoke in opposition to the bill.

BOWLING

Elks Alleys

There were some lively matches at the Elks alleys on Saturday afternoon and evening. In the Bucks and BK contest, there were a large number of members present and they made things hot for a time.

The feature match was that between William T. Entwistle, of the Bucks and Frank Gardner of the BKs and the latter won by seven pins. Ground rules were necessary and all pins knocked down on any of the three alleys were counted. Captain Scott of the Bucks defeated Captain Meehan of the BKs by two pins. The summary:

TAKES CHARGE OF
DARTMOUTH TEAM

Hanover, N. H., Feb. 23.—Coach Walter S. Woods of the Dartmouth baseball team arrived in Hanover Saturday and Monday the first call for candidates for all positions on the team will be sent out. It is expected that by the end of the week Coach Woods will have a squad of nearly 40 men working under him daily.

The battery candidates have been working for two weeks and are in good condition to take care of the hardest part of the practice sessions from now on. With the close of the hockey season this week, Clarence Wannamaker, Leon Tuck and "Jiggs" Donahue were left free to play ball, and they are now beginning to get into shape.

In Wannamaker Coach Woods will find that he has a catcher who was of varsity calibre as soon as he entered college last spring. Under careful coaching last season, while captaining the freshman baseball team, he steadily improved, and this season he is expected to develop into one of the best backstops in college baseball. It is a hockey team mate, Donahue is also a catcher, and will undoubtedly be used somewhat during the season. Tuck showed up last season as one of the strongest pitchers on the freshman team and under "varsity" coaching he should develop into a valuable man this season.

Coach Woods will spend a lot of time with Willard this season, and it is possible he will be worked into form before the opening of the season. Willard was one of the strongest twirlers any freshman team had ever had two years ago, and last spring before the season opened he was looked upon to be one of the Green's mainstays in the box. His arm went back on him shortly before the team was able to practice out doors, and during the rest of the season he was able to do but little work. In the fall his arm was apparently in good condition, and thus far during the practice season he has not been bothered. Careful coaching from now on until the season opens should develop him this season into one of the Green's strongest pitchers. The squad received its first setback this week, when P. A. Alden, last season's varsity catcher, injured his shoulder so badly that he will be unable to practice again for nearly a month.

MAJOR C. B. HOYT
ELECTED PRESIDENT

Measures pertaining to military affairs, which are before the Legislature were discussed and officers elected at the meeting of the National Guard Association of New Hampshire in the State Armory at Manchester Saturday. A majority of the officers remained for the Battery ball in the evening. The officers elected were Maj. C. B. Hoyt of Portsmouth, president; Maj. M. J. Healy of Manchester and Maj. J. P. Sullivan of Nashua, vice presidents; Lieut. I. H. Washburne of Portsmouth secretary and treasurer.

LOAD OF CONVICTS

Taken From District of Columbia Jail to Minnesota Prison.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Chained to the car seats, one prisoner to each seat, two coach loads of federal convicts were taken under a heavy guard Saturday from the District of Columbia jail to the Minnesota state penitentiary at Stillwater. The transfer of the prisoners was made at the instigation of the department of justice and their transfer was made necessary by the crowded condition of the federal penitentiaries at Atlanta and Moundsville, Va., to which district federal prisoners generally are transferred. The convicts arrived at their destination Sunday morning.

TENDER BLOCKS
BRANCH AND
MAIN LINES

The Relief Train, the new name for the wrecking train of the Boston and Maine R. R., was called to Dover on Sunday afternoon. A tender of one of the big locomotives went off the tracks at the junction of the Portsmouth branch and the main line, blocking two tracks.

The relief train with Asst. Trainmaster Poague had to make the trip via Jewett, then to Somersworth and then by Rollinsford branch to Dover where they got to work.

It required hours of work before the tender was back on the rail and the tracks cleared.

OBSERVED HER
90TH ANNIVERSARY

Sunday Mrs. Janet Cobb of Deer street observed her 90th birthday and the celebration took the form of a family gathering at which four generations were represented; the first by Mrs. Cobb, the second by her son, Horace, of this city, the third by her grandson, Merritt Deane of Kittery, and the fourth by his little daughter, Marjorie.

Mrs. Cobb was born in Scotland Feb. 23, 1823, her maiden name being Anderson. She came to this country when only four years old, her parents settling at Roxbury, Mass., where her childhood days were passed.

She married Merritt M. Cobb of Portland, Me., who died several years ago. Her family consists of five sons, Alonzo and Henry of Portland, Amory and Everett of Milne and Horace of this city, 11 grandchildren and a great grandchild.

She has made her home in this city

ALBERT H. SIDES DEAD

Mr. Albert H. Sides, one of Portsmouth's best citizens, died on Saturday at his home on Highland street after a brief illness with pneumonia. He was taken ill while at his work at the Eldridge Brewing Co. office, on Monday afternoon and he rapidly developed pneumonia and although everything possible was done he succumbed to the disease on Saturday afternoon.

He was born in this city Jan. 13, 1850, the son of the late Robert C.

ALBERT H. SIDES

and Mary J. Jenkins Sides, and as a young man attended the local high school. He entered the Postoffice as clerk and he was in this service for twenty-five years, and became chief clerk and then assistant Postmaster. In a change in administration he left the postoffice and went to the Eldridge Brewing Co. as cashier, a position he has held for eighteen years. He was an expert bookkeeper and a gentleman who always held the respect and esteem of everybody he came in contact with.

He was prominent in Masonic circles being a Past Master of St. John's Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and secretary at the time of his death. He was in the Grand Lodge and was District Deputy Grand Master. He was prominent in Washington Chapter, Davenport Council and De Witt Clinton Commandery, Knights Templar. He was a member of Osgood Lodge 1, O. U. F. and a Past Noble Grand.

He leaves a wife and one son, Percival C. Sides, one brother Robert C. Sides of New York and a sister, Mrs. John H. Broughton of this city.

NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE

New Hampshire Fans Planning a Six Team Circuit.

Somersworth, N. H., Feb. 23.—There is a prospect of a baseball league here about of six teams this season. Frank E. McKone of the New Hampshire College faculty, George McPheters of Portsmouth and Peter Murdoch of Dover have secured the Central Park diamond and several other diamonds in the vicinity.

They plan to organize teams in Portsmouth, Rochester, Dover, East Rochester, Kittery and Somersworth. The above mentioned men are arranging a schedule, starting on Fast Day, April 24, and ending Labor Day, Sept. 1, playing every Saturday and holiday. Prominent baseball men have been in town and thus far the plan seems favorable.

COUNTRY CLUB
DANCING ASSEMBLY

The third of the subscription dancing assemblies of the Portsmouth Country Club was held on Washington's Birthday evening at Freeman's annex and it was a very brilliant affair. There were about a hundred present, and dancing was enjoyed until just before midnight.

There were many clever cotillions and the favors were all in honor of the day the hatchet having a prominent place. The hall was also handsomely decorated with United States flags making a very effective display.

Refreshments of ices, cake and coffee were served at intermission and during the evening fruit punch. The music was by Robinson and Tholt.

The committee in charge were Mrs. George D. May, Mrs. W. A. Bragdon, Mrs. H. P. Staples and Mrs. H. W. Payson.

HEARING ON
ARMORY BILL

A hearing on the Portsmouth Armory bill, will be held on Wednesday before the committee on military affairs of the legislature at Concord. The hearing will be held at two o'clock and it is hoped that as many of the merchants as can will appear before the committee.

The bill went through last year only to be vetoed by Governor Bass and Representative Stoddard who presented the bill has strong hopes of it being passed at this session. There is not a doubt but what the armory is badly needed.

OBSEQUIES

Mrs. Catherine A. Farrell
The funeral of Mrs. Catherine A. Farrell was held at two o'clock Sunday afternoon from the home of John W. Jenness, South road, Rye, N. H. Harper officiating. The bearers were William Jenness, George Page, Frank Steeper and John A. Batchelder. Interment was in Central cemetery under the direction of H. W. Nickerson.

"FOR PORTSMOUTH AND PORTSMOUTH'S INTERESTS."

Portsmouth, N. H., Monday, February 24, 1913.

Survival of the Spirit of '76.

Included in the list of time-honored customs and observances in picturesque Portsmouth is that of the recognition of Washington's birthday by the ringing of church bells and a noon salute by the Navy Yard battery. To "the stranger within the gates" on Saturday last there seemed to be a singular appropriateness in this patriotic demonstration, the more striking because, so far as we know, Portsmouth is one of the few cities in New England to thus honor the memory of our first President. As the church bells made announcement in the morning that another Washington's natal day had come to us in Time's all too swift passage, in the breast of the writer were born anew mingled sentiments of reverence, rejoicing and patriotism and to his mind was clearly recalled the picture of the peasants in the field listening reverently, and with bowed heads, to the Angelus. The church bell ringing of Independence day with its noisy accompaniment, may be a direct incentive to patriotic endeavor among the youth of the land, especially those of foreign birth, but to the writer, the Washington's birthday observance in dear old Portsmouth-by-the-sea is far preferable as an object lesson in patriotism, and it is to be hoped that if this form of recognition of the birthday of the "Father of his Country" should be dropped or ignored elsewhere, Portsmouth may be depended upon to continue to do all it can to stimulate patriotic effort and keep briskly burning upon the rock-hewn altar of memory the fires of a patriotism unknown or unexcelled, in any other part of the United States. And that the heaven-inspired example of Portsmouth in this direction may find numerous imitators in New England not only but in every one of the original thirteen states, outside her borders, should be the heartfelt wish of every person owing allegiance to the best country on earth; the country that came out of the crucible of Bunker Hill, Lexington, Concord and Valley Forge and that has already surpassed the wildest dreams of even the immortal Washington.

Afraid of a Woman!

The latest exhibition of that sort of intelligence commonly attributed to animals of the long-eared persuasion, has been made by a Mr. Heflin—an Honorable Heflin, so to speak, of the House of Representatives at Washington. "To a man up a tree" it would seem that Mr. Heflin is short on common sense if long on ears, and what distinguishes him from his fellows of the donkey variety is his absolute refusal to meet a scholarly woman in joint debate upon the woman suffrage question. With more lung than logic, in season and out of season, Heflin has opposed extending to women the right to vote, and when challenged to joint debate by a noted member of the militant band he has steadfastly, but undignifiedly, declined the call to arms, taking refuge in the cheapest of all arguments, it seems to us, by saying that he does "not believe it proper for a woman to debate in public any political question with a member of the opposite sex." Thereupon the woman anxious to meet this alleged congressman said she would cheerfully waive all special consideration because of her sex, and in debate she couldn't establish satisfactorily to the audience that a correct comprehension of the principles of government is to be included among the serviceable assets of every woman with a fair mental balance, she would abandon the fight and retire from the field discomfited, if not discredited. For some time past Mr. Heflin has given his associates, even those who, like himself, balk at giving women the right to vote, an earache of considerable proportions and many of them are glad that he has been put upon the defensive by a member of the courageous sisterhood. It would seem to every fair-minded man, no matter what his political preferences may be, that if Heflin had the "courage of his convictions," and the ability to make a convincing presentation of his case, he would rejoice at the opportunity thus afforded him of trying to show that women, in general, were not sufficiently brainy to be entrusted with the ballot. It is our candid opinion, however, that he considers himself at bay and is trying to convince the women that there's a bite back of his bark.

Sea Heroism Rewarded.

When, in April last, in obedience to a wireless message in the darkest hours of the night, the heroic Captain Rostron of the Cunarder Carpathia, sent his good ship ahead at full speed through a dangerous and threatening ice field, after doubling his lookouts, and came up with the Titanic's lifeboats, with their helpless freight, shortly after daylight, the whole world rang with applause for his exploit, and the cheering has not yet subsided. For Captain Rostron alone, of the two or three captains who had undoubtedly received the Titanic's message, boldly, but with the exercise of rare judgment and skill in seamanship, steamed to the rescue at top speed. He has already received evidence of the appreciation of his courage and fidelity from the people on both sides of the Atlantic but the crowning act of appreciation will be seen in the east room of the White House next Saturday afternoon when the brave Ros-

Suffrage Army Trudging on Way to Washington And Miss Lavinia Dock With Her Suffrage Map

Photos by American Press Association.

Additional proof that the suffragists have no end of originality is given by Miss Lavinia Dock, one of the band of women who undertook the hike from New York to Washington. Miss Dock carries with her a map she painted showing the foothold votes for women in this country. The nine states which have granted equal suffrage are painted in the prettiest color available and those which have not are shown in the dingiest, most unattractive shade conceivable. The above picture shows the marchers trudging on their way and below Miss Dock and her map.

Iron will be presented, by President Taft, with the solid gold medal awarded to him by Congress "for distinguished conduct in the rescue of the survivors of the Titanic." The cost of the medal was $1000, but to Captain Rostron and his descendants the generous and hearty approval by Congress of his humane and timely action will be tenderly cherished for all time and considered "far greater than the gold that perisheth."

Getting Together, the Slogan.

In a timely and forcible and far-reaching communication in the Boston Herald recently "Oxford 3000," commenting upon the recent announcement of the purpose of the republican leaders to hold a special National convention early next fall for the purpose of reorganization, (to which we have heretofore referred editorially), says the gathering should be one for "getting together" all along the line, and that "a truce should now be called in the warfare between the Old Guard and the progressive elements of republicanism." True, every word of it, Mr. Oxford 3000, and that's what is coming to pass if we read the political signs of the times aright.

MOST GORGEOUS TRAIN IN AMERICA

Two steel vestibule trains, representing in grace of workmanship, artistic finish and durability of design the very perfection of the car builders' art, will begin running between Boston and New York next Tuesday. They will form the "Merchants' Limited" of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, the five clock four-hour train between the two cities.

These trains have just arrived from the new in the Boston and New York

OBSTINATE CATARRH

Build your strength and vital forces with SCOTT'S EMULSION; it supplies the needed lime and concentrated fats; the glycerine soothes and heals the delicate organs; the emulsion nourishes the tissues and nerve centers and makes red, active blood.

Scott & Borne, Bloomfield, N. J. 12-79

cars awaiting their initial trips on the Pullman Company's shops and Tuesday. The "Merchants' Limited" is primarily a third business man's train. It was with a view of providing for him all the car architects could furnish to contribute to his comfort and ease that this new equipment was ordered by President Charles S. Mellen of the New Haven. In these trains the luxury of the car builders have been taxed to provide as well for the passenger's safety as for his comfort.

These new trains are practically indestructible. Made of steel they could go through a stone wall without being scratched. Reinforced underneath with two hundred steel girders running the length of the car and attached at the end to a solid steel U frame forming the vestibule, no impact however great could dislodge them. A rear end collision might lift them up on end a bit but that would be all. So far as resisting powers go they are built like battle-ships.

Each of the new trains will consist of six cars exclusive of the liners. There will be four parlor cars, a combination parlor and baggage car and an observation smoker. All of them have a steel exterior with a wood interior to give them elegance. While outside there is little to differentiate them from other trains do lux their interior will present all that refined taste and decorative simplicity could desire. For rich yet unobtrusive decoration they surpass anything yet turned out from the Pullman shops. The usual drawing room has been eliminated in the parlor cars, giving them thirty-six chairs instead of twenty-eight. These chairs are models of their kind costing $40 apiece. They are upholstered in tapestry instead of plush, have patent self-adjusting backs allowing one to assume any position with real comfort and are sure to prove lasting to a man tired out by a day's business. The interior trim of the parlor cars is the richest of Mexican mahogany inlaid with the finest example of marquetry work.

But it is in their unique lighting system that these cars surpass anything yet conceived by the car constructors. They are the first to have the new indirect system of lighting, a system by which light is reflected from the ceiling. From a dozen beautifully chased bronze lacquered domes, each containing a 100 watt lamp, light is thrown upward against the white ceiling of the car. Thus reflected and diffused the light has the softness of twilight for the tired yet far reaching purposes you find you can read the finest print without eye-strain. The effect of this system of illumination upon the rich interiors of these cars is particularly pleasing.

Each car carries its own lighting system, generated by a dynamo run by a belt from the car axle. The electricity thus generated is stored in batteries that the supply may be sustained when the car is not in motion. These cars are the first to have two sets of wheels in multiple, capable of a ten mile supply. A car could make a trip to Boston and back without recharging should its dynamo get out of order. The old hot water system of heating has been discarded for direct steam heating, thus insuring cleanliness in heating. Drafts are eliminated by the Garland system of ventilation. Air is drawn from the roof of the car and passes out through ventilators in the deck sash which permit only an egress of air and thus make it impossible for one to sit in a draft. The lavatories at each end of the car, done in wood enamel, have the new lock system, the latest of sanitary devices, permitting of their use at all times even when at stations.

The interior flush of the observation smoker differs from the others in that it is of rich cocoa wood comprising more with the use for which this car is designed. It has forty leather chairs. A buffet in which hot coffee can be made quickly by electricity is attached to this car. The carpets are of the palest colors in order to harmonize with the rest of the decoration. The third business man sleeping into one of these cars at the end of a busy day will find himself in surroundings calculated to afford all the relaxation he needs to make his journey between the two cities one of positive pleasure.

Cottolene

food is never greasy

Cottolene is a vegetable fat—made from the purest and choicest cotton oil. It contains not an ounce of hog fat. Cottolene makes delicious pastry—crisp and flaky. For frying, it can be heated to a much higher temperature than butter or lard, and forms a coating which prevents the absorption of the fat.

Cottolene is every bit as good as, and much cheaper than butter for cooking. It is far better than lard; it is richer, and will go one-third farther than either. It is the most economical cooking fat on the market.

Here once again dear friend we greet you

On this glad night,

Filled are our hearts with joy and gladness,

To see these faces bright.

What precious days we've spent together.

Years long since past.

Of these within each heart are burning.

Memories that always will last,

Glad, year by year, we are to welcome.

Some new friend here,

May we by deeds of love and kindness,

Give them a greeting sincere,

Time all too soon will come for passing.

We must move on.

May every heart in this loved circle,

In closer friendship be drawn.

CHORUS

Happiness and peace surround us,

As we gather here.

Memories of the past recalling.

Which to each one seems so dear.

NEW CASTLE.

Despite the inclemency of the weather there was a large number gathered in the Congregational church Sunday evening to hear the Washington service.

Rev. W. H. McFriede delivered a most eloquent tribute to this great soldier and statesman. Mrs. Charles Craig sang "One Sweetly Solitary Thought" with much feeling and was much enjoyed by all present.

Sergt. Paul Whitlock, who for several months has been a preparatory military school in Chicago, has been promoted to commissary sergeant and has been ordered to Fort Constitution to relieve Sergt. Metzger, who has been ordered to Porto Rico.

The "Survival of the Fittest" was personified by the ringing of bells and unfurling Old Glory on Saturday in New Castle in honor of Washington.

Nothing could be more fitting or appropriate. It is an essential date to be observed by American citizens. It is immortal in our national calendar.

Mr. Granville Amazeen was seen on the street one day last week, the first time for two long months, to the delight of his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Totman of South Boston are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Yeaton.

Mr. Orville Amazeen is restricted to his home by a heavy cold.

Mr. William F. Park of Swampscott passed Sunday with Mrs. Esther Poole.

Mrs. Marie Morrell has returned from a week's sojourn with relatives in St. Johnsbury, Vt.

Mr. Forrest Becker is working in the capacity of fireman on the B. & M. R.R. Fitchburg division.

Mr. Charles Hanson of New York is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Lorrin Hubley.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dearborn, who have been passing the week-end with Mrs. Elias Tarlton, have returned to their home in Portsmouth.

Mrs. Engeline Randall is quite ill, having been threatened with pneumonia.

Mrs. Gertrude Young is restricted to her home by a severe cold.

Tickets are now on sale for "Valley Farm" to be given on March 12. Valley Farm is powerfully emotional but is relieved by plenty of humor and quickened by sufficient dramatic incidents. You will think so when you see Azariah Keep as the eccentric character.

Clinton G. Yeaton of Boston passed the national holiday at his home.

Mr. Lewis Whitehouse, after a brief visit with relatives, has returned to his home in Lynn.

FOUND IN ROAD WITH THROAT CUT

Arthur E. Wilmot Thought to Have Been Murdered

DEED ONE OF GREAT MYSTERY

Evidence of Struggle and Wounds on Wrist and Head--No Motive for Crime Found--County Authorities
Puzzled.

The Rockingham County authorities have a real mystery to solve in the death of Arthur E. Wilmot of Smithtown, whose body was found on the road about two miles out of Epping on Saturday afternoon with his throat slashed and every evidence of murder but absolutely no motive as far as is known.

Wilmot's body was found shortly after three o'clock by Miss Dora Hendry, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hendry of Epping who was driving to Epping. She drove to the nearest house and gave the alarm and then notified the authorities of Epping and they in turn called Sheriff Spence of this city who with County Solicitor R. L. Ogdell and Deputy Sheriff Shaw and Chief of Police Hurley went at once to Epping and started an investigation.

Deputy Medical Referee Knowlton of Epping was called and he found the body lying in the middle of the road. The throat was cut from ear to ear and his right wrist was badly slashed while there was a wound on the back of his head which was evidently made from a blow with a blunt instrument wielded with some force.

The body was lying in the road and some sixty feet away his coat and hat were found. He had evidently received his wounds at that point for there was considerable blood near the coat and a trail of blood to where the body lay. The coat was turned inside out with his sleeves giving the appearance of being pulled off with some force. There was some evidence of struggle but the heavy rain eliminated all of a good part of the tracks if there were any. Near the body was found a blood stained piece of window glass, which at first was thought to be the weapon with which the crime was committed, but this idea is not held by the Deputy Medical Referee, who is of the opinion that the gashes were cut with a sharper instrument. The cut on Wilmot's wrist might have been made while he was defending himself.

There was absolutely nothing in his clothes by which he could be identified and it was some hours later when he was identified by a mark on his wrist. It was thought for a time that it was a case of suicide but this did not hold good and the authorities are nearly at sea as to what it is.

Wilmot, who belongs in Smithtown, was a shoe maker by trade and but thirty years of age and single. He was somewhat of a wanderer and worked in many different places. His mother received a post card Feb. 17, from Lewiston, stating that he was going to leave that city, but did not state where he was going. Wilmot was last seen at Rockingham Junction about noon Saturday walking up the track from this city and he stopped here and borrowed some tobacco from Station Agent Badtlik, and then started up the road in the direction of Epping.

That was the last seen of Wilmot and his dead body was found some three miles away. There is no motive for the crime, robbery could not have been possible as it was taken for granted that he was broke or he would not be walking in such weather as Saturday. The act of some madman who met Wilmot was another theory but here there is no evidence. The officers have covered all of the adjacent territory but have failed to find any trace whatever of anybody being in that vicinity. The heavy rain which took away all of the snow may have washed out tracks which would have been of assistance but this is hardly probable.

It is thought that Wilmot was in this city on Saturday, but as yet this has not been positively proven. Where he has been since he left Lewiston on the 17th, is being traced.

The body was taken to the County Farm morgue and it was claimed on Sunday afternoon by Wilmot's two brothers, who could not throw any new light on the mystery.

ODD FELLOWS IN DRAMATIC WORK

The Osgood Lodge Dramatic Co., made a very creditable presentation of "The Vagabond" at Freeman's Hall on Friday evening and there was a large audience present.

The cast is composed of members of the lodge and they all made a very fine showing in the various parts assigned to them.

The following was the cast: Hiram, a Vagabond, but a gentleman after all. Sherrin Caswell Leonard Trevor, an aristocratic young Virginian. William Tilton Major Tomps, a bluff old soldier who says what he thinks. J. M. Varrell Jonas Oloworosi, a smooth-tongued and hypocrite. John Yenton Percy, his son, a plain spoken rascal. Roy Blaney Barney O'Toole, the Major's right hand man. Harry Vennard "Club" Finch, the Major's nephew from Vermont. John Shaw Gilmartin, the Count Ernest Tucker-Alber, betrothed to Leonard.

Avis Varrell Mother Carey, a reputed witch. Gertrude Pease Peggy, only a girl. Cora Wood Charlotte, a jolly old maid. Florence Hervey

The play was followed by a dance which was a very enjoyable affair.

NOTES OF EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS

The Buffalo, N. Y., Chamber of Commerce is leading in a movement to organize vocational training and vocational guidance in direct connection with the industrial, educational, and social needs of the city. Under the leadership of the chamber a committee composed of business men, school men, and social workers is making a preliminary survey of the city preparatory to mapping out a definite program. The work in under the immediate supervision of R. W. Weaver, vocational director of the Brooklyn Boys' High school.

Tennessee spent nearly twice as much money last year for high school purposes as the year before, and the total number of high school graduates increased one-third. Other significant increases reported by the state high school inspector are: Enrollment, 46 per cent increase during the year; daily attendance, 47 per cent increase; length of average term, ten days more than the year before; and teachers, 65 per cent more. In the meantime the average cost of high school tuition has been reduced from $1 to $3.36 per month.

Superintendent Joyner, of North Carolina, is making a strong plea for better educational facilities for that state. Among other things he urges that women be made eligible to serve on school boards, in order that the schools may have the benefit of their peculiar fitness for the work of education. He declares: "By nature and temperament, and because of their strategic position in the home and in the training of childhood, women are vitally concerned and deeply interested in the work of the schools."

The Phelps-Stokes lectures on the negro problem given at the University of Virginia this year included the following subjects: Race relationship in the South; black-belt negro labor in slavery and freedom; the efficiency and its cost; the economic negro; the public-health relation of the race problem in the South. The aim of these lectures is "to arouse a scientific interest in the better adjustment of the negro to American civilization."

Unroll W. Foght, of the United States Bureau of Education, is now in Denmark studying rural schools with a view to adapting as much as possible of Danish experience to the American country-school problem. He is accompanied on the trip by William H. Smith, rural school supervisor of Mississippi, and L. L. Friend, supervisor of high schools of West Virginia. Ohio University announces a "quarter of new forces" in the State Normal College. The rural school and Department of Agriculture are two of these forces upon which special emphasis is laid, since they represent a definite step in remedying the urgent problem of rural school facilities. Night schools of scientific agriculture are proving a popular feature with the farmers of western Michigan.

PROGRESSIVES RAISE $50,000 FOR STATE FUND

Boston, Feb. 23.—The Progressive party of this state gave its first birthday party in the South Armory, 1000 Washington street, last evening. It was the biggest thing of its kind ever held in this city.

The enthusiasm for the cause was such that after several of the speakers had been heard more than $50,000 was raised or pledged to be used in this state. The largest contributor was Charles H. Davis of Cambridge.

There was a "dinner" and a lot more and first and last the gathering was marked by intensity and enthusiasm. About 1700 were present, about one-third of them women.

They came from all over the state, from 150 cities and towns, in special trains from the western counties and the Cape.

There was music and singing, a great variety of speaking, cheering, singing, and everybody congratulated everybody else on the success of the event.

$1 WATCH WINS PERU PRINCES American Engineer Flees to Escape Clutches of Dusky "Beauties."

The intrinsic value of a native being of the mountains of Peru is equal to an ordinary dollar watch, according to George J. Shoup, adventurous mining engineer, who arrived in San Francisco from Panama on the steamer Kansas City after one year in the mountains and jungles of the South American country.

Shoup, who was at one time a student at the University of California, comes from a family noted for his career of excellence endured with only slanders drifted across the western states.

The late Senator George L. Shoup of Montana, was the young engineer's uncle. Shoup's father, who is still strong and hearty, met with many adventures when he was United States marshal at Alaska.

When Shoup went to South America to investigate the possibilities of copper he had no intention of becoming the victim of the matrimonial designs of one of the Pampas chiefs.

live flock as loud as an American mowing machine, he became so delighted that he hastened to offer as a reward the pick of his numerous daughters.

"One glance at the fat and smiling brown 'beauties' was enough," said Shoup. "Accompanied by Torales, my native guide, I hastened from the scene of the chief's well meant intention without delay.

"I had been warned to be careful and not get into difficulties with the Caribbe Indian tribe which lives along the Ena river. This is the fiercest tribe of cannibals in South America, and despite the efforts of the Peruvian government, continues to carry on the practice of eating their captives.

"Through the efforts of an old Chinese who had married one of the cannibal women we managed to see a lot of the race and get away without being eaten or even molested. Just before our arrival a feast had been held which was described by the Chinese.

"Instead of roasting their victims the Caribbes cut the prisoner into pieces and then make a stew. Pampas and cacao leaves, together with a lot of pepper and bananas, are put into the big pot and then everybody eats. These people eat human flesh, not because they are fond of the resulting dish, but because they believe in so doing they acquire some of the good traits of the victims and escape any undesirable ones.

"Excepting that their skin is a trifle darker, the cannibals resemble Chinese. Their speech is attended with the same singsong accent that is noted in the Chinese language.

"An effort was made one time by the government of Peru to exterminate this tribe. A whole regiment of soldiers was sent out to do the work. The tribe remained, but not one of the soldiers ever came back. All fell victims to the poisoned arrows sent through the long bamboo blowguns."

Among the souvenirs brought back by Shoup is a collection of two dozen hummingbirds with most brilliant plumage. The birds, after being shot with the native blowguns, were stuffed and mounted. Shoup said he will present the collection to his sister, who will have them mounted on her next season's hat.—Kansas City Journal.

"Through the efforts of an old Chinese who had married one of the cannibal women we managed to see a lot of the race and get away without being eaten or even molested. Just before our arrival a feast had been held which was described by the Chinese.

"Instead of roasting their victims the Caribbes cut the prisoner into pieces and then make a stew. Pampas and cacao leaves, together with a lot of pepper and bananas, are put into the big pot and then everybody eats. These people eat human flesh, not because they are fond of the resulting dish, but because they believe in so doing they acquire some of the good traits of the victims and escape any undesirable ones.

"Excepting that their skin is a trifle darker, the cannibals resemble Chinese. Their speech is attended with the same singsong accent that is noted in the Chinese language.

"An effort was made one time by the government of Peru to exterminate this tribe. A whole regiment of soldiers was sent out to do the work. The tribe remained, but not one of the soldiers ever came back. All fell victims to the poisoned arrows sent through the long bamboo blowguns."

Among the souvenirs brought back by Shoup is a collection of two dozen hummingbirds with most brilliant plumage. The birds, after being shot with the native blowguns, were stuffed and mounted. Shoup said he will present the collection to his sister, who will have them mounted on her next season's hat.—Kansas City Journal.

WANTS DAY OF REST. Minister Says It Will Prevent Slavery.

The Rev. Edward A. Tuck of West Concord appeared before the committee on labor at the State House Wednesday in favor of the "one day or rest in seven" bill.

Mr. Tuck's argument in favor of the bill follows:

"A good title for this bill would be 'An act to prevent slavery,' for continuous labor is usually compulsory. A man does it only on threat of losing his job, and seventh day labor is unpaid labor. The man gets no more than he would for six days' labor. Compulsory, unpaid labor is slavery.

"The Sabbath was made for man. The Hebrew word means 'rest.' The law of the Sabbath was written in man's constitution before it was written in the Bible. The Sabbath rest is not obligatory upon us because it was kept by the Jews, but it was kept by the Jews and should be kept by us because it is an essential need and right of mankind.

"We recognize the need of nightly rest. The Sabbath rest is a no less vital need, though it is less recognized. The need was never more urgent than in this electric age, when nerve and brain and muscle are speeded up to their limit. Says Dr. Williams, dean of Tufts Medical School: 'The general consensus of opinion among scientists seems to be that a day of rest is essential to hygienic living.'

"An insurance company states it returns the risk of a man who works continuously. The well-known motto of the Wisconsin Sunday Rest Association is: 'Nature's law—Rest one day in seven or suffer in thy body, thy brain, thy nerves, thy manhood, thy character, and still more, in thy soul.'

"Thus Sabbath laws rest on a civil as well as a religious basis. They are required on the basis of the public health and the public morals. They may be enacted without the least infringement of the principle that church and state shall be separate.

BASKETBALL

Defeated By Manchester High.

The Manchester high school basketball team defeated the seniors of the local high school in a fast game at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Saturday afternoon. The local boys were outplayed from all angles and the visitors won very handsily.

They have a finely developed team and showed some very fine team work. The locals made a game struggle against odd odds, but never were able to check the boys from the Queen City. Wilbur was the particular star for the visitors and Sanderson and Badger did some effective work.

The summary:

Manchester H. S. P. H. S. Seniors
Wilbur 11 1b Rand 1b
Chandler 11 1b Quirk 1b
Steele 11 1b Sanderson 1b
Farrell 11 1b Badger 1b
McIntire 11 1b Pullman 1b

Score—Manchester H. S. 40; P. H. S. Seniors 15. Goals from floor: Wilbur 6, Chandler 2, Steele 2, Farrell 3, McIntire 3, Sanderson 2, Badger 4, Quirk 4. Two points awarded Portsmouth for interference. Referee Billings. Umpire Tooker. Scorer Booma. Timer Parker and McCarthy. Time 20m halves.

Defeated Berwick Academy

The Y. M. C. A. Juniors defeated the Berwick academy team at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Saturday afternoon, the game being played between halves of the Seniors and Manchester match. The local boys had the better of the going from the start and took an early lead. The summary:

Portsmouth Y. M. C. A. Berwick A. C.
Hewitt 11 1b Tuttle 1b
Simpson 11 1b Miller 1b
McIntire 11 1b Matthews 1b
Hayford 11 1b Broome 1b
Brackett 11 1b McGovern 1b

Score: Portsmouth Y. M. C. A. 26; Berwick Academy 8. Goals from floor: Hewitt 3, Simpson, McGrigg 2, Brackett 1, Yeaton 2, Tooker 2. Goals from fouls, McGrigg 2, Matthews 3, Tooker. One point awarded to Berwick Academy for interference. Referee Billings. Umpire Tooker. Scorer Booma. Timer Parker and McCarthy. Time 15mm halves.

TIGERS START SOUTHWARD

Jennings, in Charge of Squad, Predicts That Cobb, Crawford and Dubuc Will Soon Report.

Detroit, Feb. 23.—Manager Hugh Jennings of the Detroit club left Saturday with the first squad of players for the Southern training camp at Gulfport, Miss. Pitchers Mullin and Lake and shortstop Bush were the veterans in the squad today.

Jennings predicted that outfielders Cobb and Crawford and pitcher Dubuc will be in the fold by March 1. He said the club will make no further overtures to catcher Stanage, and that Stanage can either accept Pres. Navin's terms or remain out of organized baseball.

There was a heavy fall of rain on Saturday and especially late in the afternoon and it made short work of the snow.

"LAME DUCKS" GOING BACK HOME

Washington, Feb. 23.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon and 10 other "lame duck" congressmen, three of them senators who have been recalled to private life, told the National Press Club Saturday how it feels to "go back home."

John T. Suter of the Chicago Record Herald, recently elected president of the club, called up G. A. Lyon of the Washington Star, whom he described as a "National Press Club lame duck" to introduce C. K. Berryman, who acted as "official duck chaser." Mr. Berryman tapped on a large gong on each occasion when the "gentlemen's time had expired."

None of the speakers present had served less than six years in the national Congress, while in the case of Representative Cannon, the "chief quacker" as he was called by the master of ceremonies, a period of 38 years, covers his length of service in the House.

The other "lame ducks" were Senators Currier, Brown and Dixon and Representatives Daltzel, Crumacker, Nye, Taylor of Ohio, Rodenburg, McCall and Howland.

SENIORS WIN BASKETBALL GAME

The Seniors had a runaway match with the Sophomores in the High School class basketball game at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Friday afternoon. The final score was 58 to 8.

The summary:

Hewitt 11 1b Thomas 1b

Score: Seniors 58, Sophomores 8. Goals from floor: Fullam, Badger 3, Sanderson 5, Rand 4, Quirk 7, Gibson, Newton, Thomas. Goals from fouls: Badger 6, Conover 2. Referee Billings. Umpire McGrigg. Scorer: Hewitt. Timer: Parker. Time, 15 and 10 minute periods.

TAFT CHAMPION TRAVELER

President Will Have to His Credit Total of 114,479 Miles.

When Pres. Taft returns to Washington Sunday afternoon from New York which will complete his last official trip as President of this nation, he will have traveled a total of 114,479 miles by railroad and steamship. Besides this, he has traveled in and about Washington and on his summer vacations thousands of miles by automobile.

President Taft has visited during his administration every state in the Union with the exception of North Dakota and Oklahoma. Many states he has visited dozens of times, and in a large number of them he has visited with more or less frequency.

CLEVELAND SQUAD DEPARTS

Cleveland, Feb. 23.—The first detachment of the Cleveland club departed Saturday on the Southern training tour. Included in the party were Manager Birmingham, the veterans Lajoie, Turner, Grancy, Stearns and Handing, and Dettis an outfield recruit.

The first stage of the training season will be spent at Pensacola, Fla.

SALEM OUT OF RANGE OF WIRELESS

Washington, Feb. 23.—"Lost"—no powerful scout cruiser Salem. Last heard from some 2000 miles distant. This appeal for information might with propriety be advertised to the world by the navy wireless station at Arlington, Va., across the river from Washington, for it has lost connection with the vessel, now somewhere in mid-Atlantic.

The Salem is making her way to Gibraltar to test the sending radius of the Arlington station, which must be able to reach vessels at a distance of 3000 miles under the contract plans.

Communication with the Salem had not been re-established this morning, although it may be possible that the station's powerful radio waves are reaching the warship while the lesser power of the vessel's sending apparatus is not sufficiently great to bridge the distance to Arlington. If such is the case, the commander of the Salem is expected to communicate with the navy department by cable from the first shore station.

There were a great many sons and daughters home for the holiday.

RAILROAD NOTES

Mission Pacific has closed contract for seven mountain type and five Allato locomotives with the American Locomotive Co. and Weir & Lake Erie has placed orders for 20 compact locomotives with the same company.

The New Haven directors have authorized President Mellen to negotiate lease of line of Northampton division
north of Westfield, Mass., to Boston &
Albany R. R.

They have also authorized President
Mellen to negotiate a lease of trolley lines owned by the Connecticut Co.,
New London, and north to East
Thompson, Conn., to the Shore Line
Electric Ry. Co., owned by Morton P.
Plant.

Assistant Trainmaster P. V. Fungate, accompanied the wreckers on the relief train called to Dover on Sunday afternoon to clean the track where the tender of a large locomotive was on the ground. Conductor George Hobbs was in charge of the train.

In railroad circles it is rumored that the Boston & Maine officials want the employees in the train service to be better acquainted with the rules and will later issue a new book on the same. The new form is said to contain many questions and the answers.
The men are to familiarize themselves with the rules as the questions contained therein will be put to both old and new employees whenever they appear at any time for examination.

teresting happenings of the world at a glance.

"In the Power of Blacklegs"—Kalem.

The story of a young man who was taught a terrible lesson associating with blacklegs.

Song—"The Subway Glide."

Mr. Albert Hadley

"The Press Gang"

"Oh, What a Boob"

"Two Biograph Force comedies on one reed. A continuous round of laughter from beginning to end."

"The Doctor's Photograph"—Edison.

Is a strong dramatic subject in which a doctor's kindness to a burglar leads him to reform.

Song—"Pretty Montezuma"

Mr. Albert Hadley

PORTSMOUTH THEATRE PROGRAMME

Program for Monday and Tuesday:
Pathe's Weekly No. 7. A perfect film for particular people, portraying the movements of current events with a fidelity unattainable by any other method of publicity.

Song—"Why Did You Say You Loved Me"—Mr. Homer Roberts.

The Fire Caward—Kalem. A revenue officer is sent to the hills to locate a band of moonshiners. Later he proves a coward.

Act—LaKellors—Circus Evening in Mexico.

The Dancer—Edison. This film is a good picture of a mother's error.

Act—Gerardy Bros., Street Singers and Music.

A Black-Hand Elopement—Solig. A country constable arrests a poor Italian fruit peddler in which later is the hero of this story.

Song (spotlight)—Mr. Homer Roberts.

A Japanese Tea Garden—Edison. A delightful comedy in which the lovers are "parted" by a slight accident—to another lady.

THE MOTORCYCLE MAN

Village Place in Kittery, Me.,
For Sale.

Desirable seven-room house, with bath and reception hall, hardwood floors, fireplace, hot and cold water, bathroom with all open plumbing, furnace heat and covered cellar. House is fully screened and has double windows.

The lot is 80 feet front and 222 feet deep. Has a number of large apple trees in good bearing condition, very near railroad, large blackberry patch (which yielded 250 baskets last year), raspberry patch, asparagus bed, and a good garden.

There is a good, new hen house that will accommodate 40 hens. There is a cistern for running water in the garden.
Five minutes to steam or electric cars, with five-cent fare to Portsmouth,
N. H.

This property sits on a very high and slightly location, with a wide view down through the lower harbor to the ocean. It is very attractive, in excellent condition, and would make an excellent summer home, or all-the-year-round, as desired.
